We hear a good deal of Republican chat about the "fall dinner pill." Well, there's no doubt about its fallness. Up in Chicago the other day the X ray was turned on the fall dinner pill and it showed up 25% grub and 75% fraud—result, its stock is rapidly declining. It's not worth 50 cents to the dollar in the coal fields of Pennsylvania, and is below par in the mining district of Kentucky.

Col. D. G. Colson has informed the editor of the Interior Journal that he did not make the remark attributed to him in his speech at Salsberyville—that mountaineers ought to have stood over Clerk Leigh with revolvers while he was drawing the contest board. He stated that he was very fond of Mr. Leigh and did not approve of covering a public servant with guns.

The teachers of the public schools only received 20% of their pay last Saturday instead of 40% which was due. This shortage is due from a misappropriation of the school funds last year. Under Republican misrule $180,000 is now due certain cities on last year and must be made good out of the present funds which results as above stated. Last year the Republicans made a desperate effort to stimulate the teachers of this State in order to, at least, receive their moral support but now, even now, this deficit and game of hypocrisy and the illegal use of the funds of the State, due the teachers, due the children, have been used to forward the interest of the Republican party. It is no less than a square steal from the State, a plain robbery of the children. If there is a school superintendent in this State who can explain to his teachers the above on any other basis, than the above which is one of the rankest, frauds, made to advance the interest and to aid in the election of the Republican ticket we would like to hear his reasons. This deficit is due to the fact that the per capita was declared too high last year—purpose so. The "Civil Liberty" and "honest election" howlers should explain why they need $180,000 of the public school funds to advance their party interest where it did not belong to them. Democrats wake up! Honesty has no fellowship with such methods.

We were informed while in Middleboro, last week, by a trustworthy gentleman, that the Prohibition cause was growing rapidly in that city. Our informant also stated that the Prohibition papers had been excluded from the mails and that they received their papers by express. This ought to awaken those Republicans who kick against the use of strong drinks but who find pleasure in supporting McKinley, for McKinley is responsible for such an act, when he permits the Postmaster General to exclude Prohibition papers from the mails. The whole trouble is that the Prohibition papers have been making it hot for McKinley's canton policy in the Philippines. Thousands of barrels of whiskey and other drink material have been and is being shipped and sold to the people in our New possessions and in order to prevent a fall and broad understanding of this pernicious traffic the papers that attack such a course have been excluded from the mails. With Hanna and other trust magnates to shut the mills and close the mines—take the bread from the mouths of thousands and help women and children for the purpose of forcing their employers to vote the Republican ticket and McKinley to allow such discrimination to be made against the publication of Prohibition papers, because they fight the rum traffic in the territories of our country and which would result in injury to his personal ambition, is enough to shake the sober element and the God-fearing part of the Republican party. It ought to shake them loose from the support of such a ticket.

We believe that Bryan will be elected but if his majority of the electoral vote be small that the Republicans will call in question the constitutionality of the election law in North Carolina and two or three other Southern States, which is Republican, will declare that no elections have been held in such States. In other words we look for a repetition of 1876 if such a course is necessary to keep the Republican party in power. Assuming that this contest should result then we would expect Kentucky Republicans to revolt against such a steal. They would doubtless get their winchesters and other implements of war, smokeless powder and steel bullets, and march into Washington 100,000 strong to peacefully protest against such an outrage and to see that correct methods prevail. One of the most unaccountable events of American history is that Kentucky Republicans failed to brand Hayes as a thief and march to the Capital and arrest Mr. Tilden. We have often wondered why they did not revolt when the Southern States, two or three of them, were disfranchised for the purpose of making a National ticket. They are so pure, so honest that common Democrats can not participate with them.

Last Saturday evening Mr. Rollin Hart made one of the most convincing speeches to the voters of Harmony precinct that has been made in that locality for many years. About 175 or 200 were present to hear the reasons why they should support the entire Democratic ticket and for two hours they heard it. Mr. Hart did not appeal to the prejudices and passions but to reason and judgment. He made a strong argument against McKinley's foreign policy and showed clearly that such a cause is dangerous to the welfare of our own people. Coming to our own hearth-stone, to the situation in Kentucky, his logic ought to convince doubting Democrats that their plain duty to their State, their party and themselves is no less than a loyal and enthusiastic support of the Democratic nominee—that the election in this State will determine whether or not assassination shall be endorsed or whether the strong arm of the law shall be applied and guarantee the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Such logic is bound to bring forth good fruit.

There is not a locality in our proud old commonwealth that feels the need of Democratic rule and supremacy so much as the Eleventh Congressional District and we can truthfully say that no Democrats in any part of the State are more loyal and making a harder fight for the success of our nominees than the undaunted, courageous Democrats of the Eleventh. Inspired by a love of Democratic principles, with no hope of reward, save that which comes from government honestly administered, they are making a brave, courageous and effective fight against tremendous odds. In passing through the eastern part of this district we received most encouraging reports and beyond a doubt better returns on election day will be the result of their efforts. Should the Democrats of other sections make as hard a fight as the Mountain Democrats Mr. Beckham will be elected by 25,000 majority.

Frank S. Monnett Ex-Attorney General of Ohio and the man who made such a vigorous and damaging prosecution of the Standard Oil Trust and other Monopolies while in office—the man who refused an offer of $400,000 to quit his prosecution, the man who was turned down for re-election to the same office by Ohio Republicans, in a speech at Columbus, last week, denounced Republicanism and declared his intention to support Mr. Bryan. Such men as Monnett can rarely be found and when you find one he is not supporting Trust breeding machine now in power. Monnett was a strong Republican but he can't endorse the McKinley policy.

Democrats don't wait for others to do the work that you can do. This is a fight in which we are all interested. There's no time to lose nor votes to spare. All we need, all we want is a full and complete vote of our party and if this happens there need be no fears. Stir up and acquaint yourself with the conditions surrounding you. Don't permit a single Democrat to play away from the polls if an honest effort of yours would induce him to vote. Look around and see if you can't help some in this fight. Don't wait till the polls are open but go to work and keep it. We will help help make the majority sweeping.

A VISIT TO VIRGINIA.

My trip to the south-west part of Old Virginia was indeed a pleasant one, though I was made short by the pressure of business matters.
Lee county, my old home, is one of the best locations in that part of Virginia, and while I only spent three days there, yet I saw several hundred head short-horn cattle equal to any seen in the blue-grass section of this State. The truth is that Lee county is a fine grazing and agricultural country. My stay was so short that it was merely a hand-shake with many of my countrymen and acquaintances, but it's great pleasure to shake occasionally. Leaving Jonesville, the capital of Lee county, I went directly to Big Stone Gap in the county of Wise, which is probably the most noted spot in that part of the Old State. At least it is the town where, a few years ago, the speculator exchanged his cash for dirt, which at that time was even more valuable than gold. It is the place where poles for electric lights were planted in the dense forests for more than two miles from the village and now stand as my sentinels keeping watch over the magnificent structures, to be erected, that adorned the blue prints—the weapons of the real estate gentry.
The place where many food expectorators and hard earned dollars were wrecked in the stream of depression and folly. It is the place that went up, went down, was a city, now a town, and is a place, beyond a doubt, that the Great Maker of the universe intended to be a fit dwelling place for thousands of happy and intelligent beings. It suffered, severely, from the depression, but it is now a place where the people are fairly good though they make it is not what it once was.

DEATH.

In this death Adair county loses one of her best citizens, his aged companion a loving husband and the children a good and faithful father. ### FROM ELD. Z. T. WILLIAMS.

Milton, Ky., Oct. 8, 1900.
Editor of the News:
I came to this place two weeks ago last Friday night to begin a meeting with Mr. Byrd Church. Our good brother and former co-laborer, M. O. Ewing, is the beloved pastor of this Church, hence it was a great pleasure to me to have the privilege of being associated with my brother again in the work of the Lord.
On Saturday after my arrival we visited the Byrd Cemetery where rest the remains of the beloved F. G. Allen, who ministered to this Church about fourteen years. There is a modest monument erected at his grave, but his life and work here is the real and most enduring monument in the hearts of the people. This too is the only monument after all that will be of real good to us. May our Heavenly Father help us all to build such a monument.
Mt. Byrd Church dates back to 1832, early in the history of Reformation by the Campbells. It was first organized by old brother Mosley in the home where Ed. King now lives, who by the way, was a student in C. C. College when the institution was seeing its best days. He met his good wife, who was a Miss Thurman, of Lincoln county, for the first time in the College at Columbia.
The present church-house is a large commodious building, 40x30 feet and was named Mt. Byrd on account of its location—being on a tract of land known as the Byrd survey, one mile from the town of Milton on the Ohio river. The Church has been prosperous for many years. It has now a membership of 800 and has a live Sunday-school, a good board of officers which meet once a month.
M. O. Ewing, who is well and favorably known in Adair and Russell counties, is the present preacher. He has been laboring with the church since last January, and he has endeavored himself to the entire membership by his good work of labor and love. He is highly esteemed here by the entire church for his manly deportment and his model character, and is fast coming to the front as one of our best young preachers. May he labor long with this people and be a blessing to them and they to him.

OUR MEETING CONTINUED TWO WEEKS.

resulting in 15 additions to the church. Many of our best preachers have held meetings for this people among whom I will mention E. L. Frazier, R. A. Hopper, Bro. Guard, of Indianapolis, J. W. McGraw, Jr., W. K. Asbill, Ernest Elliot and many others.
We are now about the Lizzie Bay, one of the low water Ohio river Steamers, en route for Salem Church in Barren county. Will perhaps remain there ten days and then hold a two week's meeting at Barrenville, Hart county.
Hope to be at the meeting at Christian church in your town to be held in November by brother Shone. Also will try to be at the Co-operation meeting at Mt. Pleasant the fourth Sunday in October.
Z. T. Williams.

BLAMERICK'S IRON NERVES.

Was result of his splendid health. Indigestible will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, see Dr. King's New Life Pills. Only 25 cents at T. E. Paul's drug store.

STOICALLY SURELY THE TOWN OF COLUMBIA.

is important and a few more interesting news will prove that this town has many advantages that are not common to other cities. Even greater population than the Democrats. There is no doubt about it. The town is well situated to engage in the manufacture of furniture and they are now expecting their machinery bought a few days ago will enable them to make anything in the furniture line for this county needs and at prices lower than offered in the cities. Then, again, we are to have a school placed on such a basis that will guarantee success. The Ladies Home Board of Education, located in New York, has accepted the proposition of this committee of $15,000 and will in return give $500 annually to aid said school. With the proper man as Principal aided by a $200 contribution together with an united effort on the part of the people of this town we will have one of the best institutions of learning anywhere in Southern Kentucky. It's power for good, it's stimulating tendencies to business and its full scope of usefulness will be sure to do time for the chief officers in giving Columbia prestige over surrounding towns.

Field Work in Geography.

The following paper, taken from the Shelbyville Herald, was read by Miss Nettie Baker, thirteenth, before a Teachers' Association at Christiansburg, Shelby county.

Object teaching is the simplest and most successful mode of imparting knowledge. It is the system of the greatest of all teachers the earth has known—of Him who "spoke as never man spoke." His lessons were taken from nature, objects familiar to those whom he taught. The sheep, the shepherd, the vineyard, the harvest field, the fig tree, the light, the running water, and other objects that came daily under the eyes of His disciples, were used to illustrate the greatest truths. "Behold the fowls of the air; for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns, yet thy heavenly Father feedeth them." Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; and yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Nature's voice is never silent. It is heard above the busy rush of the day, and even in what we regard as the stillness of the night it speaks in multiform tones.

Some one has said, "Come forth into the light of things, 'at nature be your teacher.'"

Would we not accomplish more as teachers if we were to heed this admonition in our instruction of the young, and, instead of too exclusively holding their minds to books, direct them more to the study of that other great book which lies open to their sight?

"One landscape from a rural wood
May teach you more than will
Of moral creed and of
That all the ages can."

If this is true of knowledge in general or of moral truths, how much more so it when we attempt to teach of the earth upon which we live, for geography literally is a writing concerning the earth, its formations, inhabitants, products, etc.

It is difficult for a trained mind to form a true conception of a place, a town, a battle field, a city, for instance, from a written description, however graphic it may be. Victor Hugo has given us a vivid picture in his description of Waterloo but, how far short does it necessarily fall from an actual view by sight of the ground where the armies of Europe met in the shock of battle? Geography in an especial way appeals to the sight. When we see an object and understand what it is, knowledge does not come to us second handed, but is direct. It is through the sense of sight that we grasp the sense of things photographed upon the minds and to be stored.

I have in my mind now a large school building of brick, beautifully situated upon an elevation overlooking a quiet country town, in what is known as the "Pennsylvanian" district of our beloved Kentucky. Its portico is supported by columns of colonial style and from the second story a view of surpassing beauty is presented. On each side, small streams, fed by springs a little back, flow gently on until their waters unite to form a larger stream and in the valley from barren steeps the little village, Columbia.

"Sweet Auburn! forest village of the plain
The dearest spot of all the earth to me."

Centrally located stands a handsome Court House surrounded by business houses. Four neat church buildings are in view testifying that its inhabitants are God-fearing and peace loving; modest cottages and more pretentious buildings surrounded by evergreen Oaks, elms and maples in the valley Oaks and hills around. Just beyond these are traced the winding course of the creek with its bluffs and bottom lands and farther on still as far as the eye can reach are fields and forests, alternating and blending in scenes of beauty.

Looking out from this elevated standpoint how many lessons in Geography can be taught, and in the best manner of the school room by consulting in books over dull lessons, but with the inspiration which comes from the contemplation of natural scenery. And with the same inspiration we can carry our pupils out to the fields and forests of the beautiful blue grass land, and from the thicket beyond.

The tiny rivulet with its course stalks great upon its surface, grows into the great river bearing upon its bosom the riches of the valley; the pond becomes a lake, the lake an ocean; the farm houses grow into a village, the village into a city with its busy hum of commerce, and so the mind expands and grows until beyond the narrow view of field and forest it takes within its vision the earth with its complicated interests and industries.

At Henderson, Lorenzo Williams, aged 15 years, was fatally shot by his brother Ray, aged 7, while playing with a pistol.

President McKinley's Record.

President McKinley is a man with a record—in fact with several of them. It is much too long and varied to record in a single article, but a few of these strong points may be profitably noted.

President McKinley has made war without bloodshed on our former allies, the non-state-holding christian monarchists of Europe.

President McKinley has recognized slavery and polygamy in the Sultan's land.

President McKinley bought peace from the Mohammedan, Italian, Slavobosnian, polygamous Sultan of Sulu, and is paying him and his retainers large subsidies for the maintenance of their harems.

President McKinley asserted in an interview that he could deny the right of suffrage, of trial, by jury, of the writ of habeas corpus, the right to bear arms, the right of representation to the inhabitants of "our new possessions," while imposing arbitrary taxes upon them.

President McKinley declared in a message to congress that forcible annexation, under our code of morals, would be a criminal aggression. He then engaged in forcible annexation.

President McKinley informed congress that it was our plain duty to give Porto Rico free trade. Immediately thereafter, he exerted all the power of his administration to compel congress to impose a tariff upon Porto Rico both ways.

President McKinley paid Spain $20,000,000 for her lost title to the Philippine islands, and bought an insurance in which Spain had already been whipped. He has since spent $200,000,000 more in trying to get possession of what Spain was supposed to have delivered.

And now President McKinley is asking the voters of these United States to ratify these illegal acts, to sanction and endorse his schemes of imperial conquest and forcible annexation. If they favor an empire rather than a republic they will do it.

Stung by a Centipede.

Mrs. Thos. Saunders, Bluffton, Tex., was stung by a centipede. A doctor was sent for, but before he arrived some sensible friend sent a piece of Chamberlain's Pain Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public. For sale by M. Craven.

Turn on the Lights.

The Republican President tells the American people that the Philippines belong to them; that the islands are their "possessions." That we bought and paid for them and that they are our "property."

Yet he refuses to let the American people know what is being done with these, their "new possessions." His censor refuses to "let anything get through that will hurt the administration" or that "will help Bryan." The American owners of the Philippines are denied official knowledge or even unofficial news of what their agents in the islands are really doing with their property.

This is curious business. What suppose our had bought a farm or had fought some man for land had driven him into the swamps after killing his wife and children and burning his house. Would you be satisfied if your hired man declined to make an accounting after two years of occupation?

What would you do about it?

Mr. McKinley is the nation's hired man. He is paid $50,000 a year to look after the people's business and to administer their affairs. He tells us that he has bought a lot of lands for $20,000,000; that he has spent $200,000,000 more in trying to get possession of them; that he has nearly 75,000 men down there engaged in man-hunting; and that he has "got 'em."

But there is something that he doesn't tell. He allows nothing to come to the public that will hurt him. What has he done with the income of those islands? What bargains has he made down there with "interests" of one kind and another? What franchises has he given away? Who have been concessionaires?

Can anybody tell? Not if the censor keeps it.

"I wish to express my thanks to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for having put on the market such a wonderful medicine," says W. W. Manning, of Beaumont, Texas. There are many thousands of mothers whose children have been saved from attacks of dysentery and cholera, from whom must also be thankful. It is for sale by M. Craven.

The following from the Louisville Times refers to Mr. Enloe and the Dispatch: "The organizer and first editor of the self-styled 'Oily Democratic newspaper in Louisville' is now running in Congress, and his successor, C. I. Stewart, announces a division of his political affections between a Republican nominee for Governor and a Socialist candidate for President. With a newspaper it is, as Josh Billings said of the individual—when it starts to the devil everything seems to be grained for the occasion."

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by M. Craven.

My friends, I want you to read Kentucky. I heard your hand playing the "Old Kentucky Home." I want Kentucky to be the home she used to be, a State upon which Democracy could rely at all times. When you come to vote this fall, if you are to make us happy throughout the Union, give us your electoral vote, give us your Congressmen and then give us Beckham for Governor.—Bryan at the Auditorium.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public. For sale by M. Craven."

It is all right for Democratic speakers and writers to "keep up their lick," but they might rest themselves and allow Senator Hoar, Senator Hale, Senator "Billy" Mason, ex-Senator Schurz, ex-Senator Edmunds and a few other distinguished Republicans to carry on the campaign. They have furnished all the argument that is necessary. We trust that the Democratic Administration will be able to prevent the Administrationists from accomplishing anything with their corruption fund.

Why experiment on yourself with remedies of doubtful utility when you can get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which has stood the test of time? Twenty-five years' sale and use have proven that remedy to be a prompt and certain cure for colds. It will cure a cold in a day if taken soon as the cold has been contracted and before it has settled in the system. Sold by M. Craven.

The society column of the Lexington Democrat, edited by a lady, had this item the other day:

"Will the man who takes a drink please recall the fact that there are others thirsty and if it is just the same to him we'd rather he wouldn't come up wiping his mouth and smacking his lips."

Job Couldn't Have Stood It If he had had Iching Pills. They're sold in a box and have cured thousands of cases of itching, skin eruptions, pains or bodily eruptions. It's the best salve in the world. Price 50c a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by T. E. Paul, druggist.

Bryan will get one more vote in St. Louis than he would have gotten had not Mrs. Isa McCoy, a coo and winsome widow, made a vote for the great leader of Democracy. The price of her hand and heart after her lover, an ardent Republican, had made all other promises in vain. He placed love above politics, and promised, and they were married, to live happily—as the novels say, ever afterward.

John T. Blythe, a prominent business man, and Gypsy Tindell, a horse dealer, were run over and killed by a fast mail train at Fulton, while crossing the railroad track late in the evening.

OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

Have you watched its marvelous growth? If not, The Weekly Enquirer wants to study the strides it has made. The first census of the United States was taken in 1790. Since then every succeeding ten years. The result has been as follows:

Year.	Population.	Year.	Population.
1790....	3,929,821	1880....	31,443,321
1800....	5,308,822	1870....	36,858,371
1810....	7,264,823	1860....	39,165,783
1820....	9,637,824	1850....	23,192,878
1830....	12,866,825	1840....	24,022,350

Here you have the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year. The Weekly Enquirer is anxious to engage all in a study of their country. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solutions received of the population of the United States Census, as follows:

To the first nearest correct guess received.	$3,000.00
To the second.....	1,500.00
To the third.....	1,000.00
To the fourth.....	500.00
To the fifth.....	250.00
To the sixth.....	100.00
To the seventh.....	50.00
To the eighth.....	25.00
To the ninth.....	10.00
To the tenth.....	5.00
To the eleventh.....	2.50
To the twelfth.....	1.25

1797 cash presents amounting to $25,000.00

In case of a tie, money equally divided.

Every guess on the above proposition must be accompanied by a year's subscription to the Weekly Enquirer. You can guess as often as you care to include subscription price to the Weekly Enquirer.

This contest will close a month before the result of the census will be known and officially certified by the Director of the United States Census at Washington, D. C.

Subscription price for the WEEKLY ENQUIRER (including postage) is only $1.00 a year. Eleven copies and eleven guesses for $10.00. For full particulars see WEEKLY ENQUIRER. Send all orders to ENQUIRER CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Another's Testimonial Influences J. M. Beecher to Use Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

J. M. BEECHER, Sr., of Bellefonte, Kan., has this to say of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure: "I desire to inform you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, hoping that this may influence some other sufferer, as I was influenced from reading another's testimonial. My early symptoms were about six years ago, when I at first felt shortness of breath and later, sharp shooting pains about my heart, etc. I frequently consulted my family physician, but his prescriptions gave me no relief. My trouble grew worse as I became older until I was unable to get a good night's rest, and frequently I would have to get up and go to the window for air. To get any sleep I was compelled to prop my head and shoulders up so that I could breathe. I began using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and experienced relief from the beginning. I continued for some time and it fully restored my health. That was three years ago." "Heart diseases, unchecked, never grow better of themselves. Its course is from bad to worse. The first symptoms are usually ignored with the thought, 'I don't think I can have heart trouble' and the timely opportunity is neglected and the case becomes serious. Thousands of weak hearts are liable, at any moment, on the least over-exertion to fail and the victims' shock their friends by their sudden and untimely deaths."
